Contagious Happiness

A new study finds that a person's happiness is influenced by the happiness of close friends and family, and to a lesser extent by the friends of friends, up to three degrees of separation.

Relationships Matter

Figure 1. Largest Connected Subcomponent of the Social Network in the Framingham Heart Study in the Year 2000.

Each circle (node) represents one person in the data set. There are 2200 persons in this subcomponent of the social network. Circles with red borders denote women and circles with blue borders denote men. The interior color of the circles indicates the person's obesity status: yellow denotes an obese person (body-mass index, >30) and green denotes a nonobese person. The size of each circle is proportional to the person's body-mass index. The colors of the ties between the nodes indicate the relationship between them: purple denotes a friendship or marital tie and orange denotes a familial tie.
